Goal

The goal of the Peace Mediation Course is for participants to deepen their understanding of peace mediation and acquire the skills, knowledge and attitudes to support mediation processes effectively. Moreover, it aims to enhance the exchange and networking between participants.

Focus

The course focuses on how to support track 1 peace mediation. A comprehensive approach to mediation is the basis of the course. Such an approach takes into account the different phases, relevant actors and topics of peace negotiations. Key questions addressed in the Peace Mediation Course include:

Micro-skills: How does one deal with the nuts and bolts of negotiating and mediating?

Process design: How does one design a peace process? Who participates in peace negotiations, and how should their diverse agendas be included? When is which third party best suited to play an effective role? How do you integrate topics in a mediation process?

Participation

Target participants: The Peace Mediation Course targets 24 experts who want to engage in the support of peace mediation: staff from the Swiss Federal Department of Foreign Affairs (FDFA), international organizations, Ministries of Foreign Affairs of other countries, non-governmental organizations, individuals from the mediation and peace-building community, and negotiators in ongoing peace processes.

Conditions: Participants must have sound skills, knowledge and experience in peace mediation, or several years of field experience related to peace processes. Priority will be given to participants who are, or will be, working in support of peace processes. Excellent command of English is required to follow the course. Diversity in terms of gender, geographic and professional background will be sought for. Participants are expected to have a high degree of motivation and commitment, to stay for the entire duration of the course, and to read the background material carefully.

Selection: Participants will be selected by the Swiss FDFA.

Experience oriented: The Peace Mediation Course is experience driven: the basic learning tools will be past and ongoing mediation cases – for example, in Burundi, Colombia, Indonesia, Kenya, Myanmar, Nepal, Northern Ireland, South Africa, Sudan, South Sudan, or Somalia. Conceptual frameworks are used to help contextualize these experiences.

Interactive learning: All the training sessions are highly interactive.

Head, heart, and hands: Attitudes and values are as important in mediation as knowledge and 'technical' skills. The course aims at a comprehensive and self-reflective approach to mediation.

This will be the 11th Peace Mediation Course held by the Swiss FDFA. The course trainers are either practicing mediators or renowned experts in the relevant areas. Trainers of previous editions have included:

- Jeremy Brickhill: Senior Advisor for Security Sector Planning
- Bill Marsh: Business Mediator, Mediator of the year 2014–2015
- Julian Thomas Hottinger: Senior Mediator, Swiss FDFA
- David Lanz: Head of Mediation Program, swisspeace
- Simon Mason: Head of Mediation Support Team, Center for Security Studies, ETH Zurich
- Thania Paffenholz: Director, Inclusive Peace and Transition Initiative
- Meredith Preston McGhie: Regional Director for Africa, Centre for Humanitarian Dialogue

Opinions

“The Peace Mediation Course is a valuable contribution by Switzerland to enhance prospects for peace by professionalizing mediators from various backgrounds. The course is of very high quality in its learning methods, comprehensive in covering mediation issues and generous in sharing insider understanding.”

Sirpa Mäenpää, Finnish Ministry of Foreign Affairs

“The course experience was immensely helpful and enriching; I must say it was one of the highlights of my work in this field, and it was hands-down the best training course I have ever attended.”

Dawn Peebles, United Nations Mission (Sudan)

“The Peace Mediation Course was a great learning experience. In my opinion, it would be very useful for all diplomats who support mediation processes in their daily work.”

Guillaume Scheurer, Swiss FDFA

“The Swiss Peace Mediation Course was an outstanding opportunity to learn and deepen my knowledge in a field that is more than ever needed. The balance between theory and practice including the final role play truly provided a glimpse into mediation and negotiation. Putting us in the shoes and making us feel the difficulties, emotions, tensions and sensitivity of such fragile but critical processes.”

Paul Picard, OSCE Conflict Prevention Centre

“The Peace Mediation Course gave me inspiration to create bridges between track 1 and track 2 & 3 in the Myanmar peace processes. The “Civil Society Forum for Peace” (CSFoP) that we are now implementing is a direct result of this course.”

Ja Nan Lahtaw, Shalom Foundation (Myanmar)

The Swiss Peace Mediation Course is the best training available in our field of work.

Olai Voionmaa, EEAS, Mediation Support Team
